

Rocket® Enterprise Scheduler

As organizations replatform mainframe workloads to cloud or distributed environments, they often inherit a fragmented landscape of job schedulers and manual handoffs. Rocket® Enterprise Scheduler, part of the Rocket® Enterprise Suite (formerly a Micro Focus® product), consolidates and replatforms mainframe job schedules into a single, distributed scheduling solution designed for migration projects and ongoing operations. It centralizes batch and job orchestration, reduces tool sprawl, and improves operational control so teams can meet business SLAs with confidence. With single vendor-support, Rocket® Enterprise Scheduler minimizes integration risk while lowering total cost of ownership to keep mainframe replatforming on schedule.

With Enterprise Scheduler, you can:

- Consolidate multiple schedulers into one platform to reduce operational overhead.
- Scale automation with predictable, growth-friendly pricing.
- Centralize job orchestration to support mainframe replatforming and hybrid environments.
- Deploy with built-in failover and test capabilities for resilient operations and safer migration cutovers.
- Rely on single-vendor support to minimize integration risk and streamline incident resolution.

Why Enterprise Scheduler?

- More than 500,000 jobs migrated.
- 20+ years of migration experience.
- Direct integration with Rocket® Enterprise Suite.

From replatformed mainframe jobs to enterprise workload automation

If you need deeper automation, upgrade to Rocket® Enterprise Orchestrator (formerly a Micro Focus® product). Enterprise Orchestrator extends automation across the organization — bringing in DevOps pipelines and cloud workloads under a single orchestration layer. Instead of managing multiple point tools, teams get a tightly integrated solution that reduces tool sprawl and integration risk across the enterprise.
