30 years of modernization

In 1990, we set out to create a new type of software company, one that could make a difference for our customers and the world we share. Since then, Rocket Software has grown from two software engineers working in a garage, to more than 2,500 global employees. Over the past 30 years our dedication to supporting the modernization journey hasn’t changed with more than 10 thousand customers having trusted Rocket Software to modernize their mission critical technology.
