

Rocket President's Advisory Council

Rocket is built on the belief that the value we bring to our customers should really matter—and it's a belief we strive to deliver on every day. We are committed to putting our customers and partners first and building long-lasting relationships based on humanity, empathy, and trust. It's what we've done every day for almost 30 years.

That's why we created the Rocket President's Advisory Council (RPAC), a hand-picked group of technology and business leaders that share our values and help shape our product roadmaps and company strategy. The insights and feedback we get from RPAC members help me and my leadership team make better decisions for Rocket on behalf of our customers and partners.

This year's RPAC gatherings will provide you the opportunity to meet face-to-face with Rocket leaders and other RPAC members, share insights with me and my team, and identify business challenges and opportunities for all of us.

I look forward to having you be part of this small team of business leaders.

Network with industry peers

Collaborate with Rocket executives

Who should join?

The RPAC is an exclusive group, limited to executives who play a strategic role in their company and are interested in helping shape our future. We target 10–15 participants per meeting, with a maximum of two people per organization. We recruit new members year-round.

What to expect

RPAC meetings are full-day events, preceded by a reception or special event that reflects the unique character of the host city. All events are fully catered, hosted in premium facilities, and generally conclude by 3:30 PM to facilitate return travel.

While our executives will deliver presentations on technology initiatives to elicit feedback or gauge market interest, our goal is to spend 80% of our time listening and 20% presenting. We hope to serve as facilitators to conversations about what matters most to you.

There is no fee for membership in the RPAC. Where permitted, Rocket will cover hotel and airfare expenses for each member (and a guest) in exchange for your participation and insights.

How to join

Membership in the RPAC is invitation-only. If you are interested in receiving a formal invitation, please let your sales representative know, and we will follow up.
